The background image is a photograph of a large, circular, abandoned industrial building, possibly a textile mill. The building has a rusted metal roof and a series of arched windows along its perimeter. The interior is visible through the arches, showing a dark, empty space. In the center of the courtyard, two people are standing, providing a sense of scale. The overall tone is sepia and nostalgic.

SYNOPSIS

The film reveals the life of a 74-year-old teacher-artist in Brazil today. Fernando is provoked to interpret his own life, merging reality and fiction. Faced with a serious health problem, he follows a fulfilled routine of projects and desires in art.

"Firmly anchored within a certain contemporary cinematic trend of exploring the boundaries between documentary and fictional constructions, the film takes one step further due to the occupation of its protagonist, who daily experiences not only the art of performing, but also teaches acting. This mirrored construction provides the film with a unique and different nature within the context of audiovisual production, accomplishing deeply moving moments in a love letter to the craft of acting".

(Olhar de Cinema 2017 - Curitiba International Film Festival).

"Every time the camera of filmmakers Igor Angelkorte, Julia Ariani and Paula Vilela focuses on the protagonist, it is to highlight some important issue, arising from their interactions or from mere everyday observations. It is necessary not to be dazzled by the possibilities offered by someone like Fernando, and the filmmakers know exactly how to take advantage of his manifestations, making them small pieces of a whole designed with leisure and skill. Fernando is a sensitive documentary that approaches its protagonist with reverence and zeal.."

(MARCELO MÜLLER, Papo de Cinema).

Everything is staged, of course. And everything, too, is true. The option of presenting a life in some aspects proves to be correct. We see the character in his main activity, in his doubts about his health and the future, in his emotional relationship, talking about the work and the personal method he developed.

LUIZ ZANIN - ESTADÃO JOURNAL

And, finally, in a touching scene, with his companion assembling a mosaic of colors, a kind of game of glass pieces, to the sound of classical music and in semi-darkness. For my personal taste, this long sequence, perhaps seven or eight minutes without cuts, is the best synthesis of the character, the film and summarizes them, life and work.

After all, what are we trying to do with our lives other than putting together a set of pieces, preferably in the company of a loved one, building a little piece of beauty in this formless and insane world? If someone demands a better metaphor for the “meaning” of life, let them do it. This is enough for me.

VISPORA (Brasil 2020)

Theater, 90" - Rio de Janeiro (RJ)

Conception and direction: Paula Vilela.

Assistant Director: Raíssa Venâncio, Juuar.

Text: Paula Vilela e Juuar.

Cast: Cláudia Barbot, Luiz Furlanetto, Paula Vilela, Philipp Lavra, Rose Abdallah, Samuel Toledo.

Freely inspired by Anton Chekhov's "The Seagull", the show "Vispora" investigates the classic work, bringing questions about theater and the direction of art and culture to the current Brazilian context. The characters are now involved in a night of games at a bingo. The memory of theater haunts the place and makes us wonder where we are heading.

“The beauties of the spirit, in Chekhov’s time, surrounded sensitive people and made them suffer for their lack. Today everything is going in the opposite direction: we suffer from the lack of money, of material things... This play is a warning about the devilishness that has taken over our society. We consider Vispora a necessary spectacle, which shows us the moment of emptiness, of the lack of food for our soul, our spirit. This is a warning. VISPORA IS A NECESSARY SHOW. UNMISSABLE!
